PEOPLE CAPABLE OF SELF-GOVERNMENT.

"Only the federal government can save us," is the burden of the cry of a pessimistic citizen who has been studying the rise of the boss system in American municipalities.

It will be a sorry day for America when it shall be confessed that the people are not capable of ruling themselves. That day will not come.

This is the age of revelations. Newspapers, magazines and reformers are stirring up the animals and revealing conditions that are horrlfying and calculated to make the pessimistic and weak-kneed brethren believe that the end is near.

But there is a bright side. The light that is being turned on graft and boodling is also bringing into prominence honest men whose virtues shine as they never shone be- learn he always collected very fore. #### THE REPORT OF THE PARTY OF THE THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

It is a beautiful and time honored custom which sets apart one day in each year as a day of thanksgiving for the blessings, material and spiritual, which we, as a people, enjoy. The year, now nearing its end, has been fruitful in blessings to the people of Florida, the intellectual and moral uplifting of our people is evidenced on every hand and the great material development of the State is observed and commented upon by all thoughtful people; prosperity prevails throughout the length and breadth of the State; labor has had full employment; commerce has been in such volume as to almost choke the channels of trade; no sickness of an epidemic character has afflicted our people, except in one city, and there its ravages have been light and its progress is now most mercifully stayed; no flood or orther great calamity has been visited upon is;

Therefore, following the example of the President of the United States, who has proclaimed the 30th day of November as a day of prayer and thanksgiving to Almighty God the giver of all good and precious gifts, I, Napoleon B. Broward, Governor of the State of Florida, do hereby proclaim and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, A. D. 1905, as Thanksgiving Day.

On that day let all our people suspend their usual vocations and in public and private give praise and thanks to the Great Creator for the blessings we have received at His hands; let our grateful hearts express thankfulness in acts of charity and benevolence toward the suffering and needy, the widow and orphan, that these unfortunates may also have cause for thankfulness and rejoicing.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of Florida, at Tallahassee, the capital, this the 14th day of November, A. D. 1905. NAPOLEON B. BROWARD, Governor.

SALUTING A SNEEZER

A CUSTOM THAT BELONGS TO EVERY NATION AND CLIME.

There Are Many and Varied Answers to the Question, Why Do We Do It! That Was Asked by Pliny Some Mineteen Centuries Ago.

"Why do we salute the sneezer?" asked Pliny nineteen centuries ago. We still ask the question, and one wonders if Pliny could collect so many ingenious replies as the ana of the twentieth century furnish.

In Caxton's 1483 edition of "The Golden Legende" is an account of a pestilence in Rome in the time of Gregory the Great, from which many died suddenly. "In this manere, sometyme snesying they deved, so that when any persone was herd snesying, anone they that were by said to hym, God helpe you, or Cryst helpe, and yet endureth the custome." As Pope Gregory reigned in the sixth century Pilny's query far antedates the explanation in "The Golden Legende."

In the Buddhist Scriptures, dating at least 250 B. C., it is related that Buddha, when preaching one day to his disciples, sneezed, whereupon all exclaimed: "May the Blessed Lord live! May the welcome one live!" thus seriously interrupting the discourse Buddha said, "Tell me, when a person sneezes, if the bystanders say, 'May you live,' will be live the longer or die the sooner for it?" "Certainly not, lord." So he forbade them to say it. But the people took offense because the priests did not thus salute them, and Buddha revoked his command. The Talmudic tradition is that the custom dates from Jacob. Before his time man did not die of disease, but when his appointed time was come be sneezed once and was dead. Jacob pe titioned for exemption from this law, and his prayer was granted on condition that among all nations a sneeze should be hallowed by the words, "God bless you."

The Greeks traced the custom back to the myth of Prometheus, who made an image of clay and wished to give it life. From the sun he stole a reedful of rays, and, hastening back to his statue, he placed the reed under its nostrils, producing a sneeze-a phenomenon we may at any time produce by standing in the sun. At this sign of life in his creation Prometheus ejaculated a blessing and a prayer for its preservation, and this response to a sneeze has been handed down through all generations.

Helne, to the bitter conclusion that "Judaism is not a religion, it is a mis-Also in the story of the Shunamite child restored to life by the prophet Elisha do we find the idea that this convulsive effort of nature is the first sign of life. "The child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes." According to Scottish folklore, a new born child is under the fairy spells until it sneezes. Aristotle mentions the practice of physicians who, when death seems near, give medicines to induce sneezing, hoping thereby to arouse the failing faculties. Aristotle seems to have given much attention to omens of sneezing. He says a sneeze on the right hand brings good fortune; on the left hand it betokens ill.

In the Odyssey, when Penelope calls on the absent Ulysses to punish wrong: Telemachus then sneezed aloud. The smiling queen the happy omen bless

In Ethiopia yet more perfectly the bitter humor of when the king sneezed those about yet more perfectly the bitter humor of the Jew. It is the story of a dying him saluted so loudly that they were rabbi "who had been all his lifetime heard and echoed through the whole extremely religious, but had likewise city. In 1542 De Soto had an interview in Florida with a cacique who always suffered much want and misery. 'Do you know,' he said to those during conversation happened to sneeze. All his attendants bowed their in the sickroom, 'if after all the sad experiences I have had in the past there | heads, opened and closed their arms is no future life I shall be greatly and saluted the prince with "May the sun guard you, shine on you, defend you, prosper you," and similar phrases, An Italian child's primer of 1553 says, "Being prompt in saluting any one who may sneeze and returning thanks to any who on such an occasion may place of Homer, and near it was a fa-

The ancient Romans said "Salve." The modern Roman of the lower class says, "Figli maschi" (May belief that the cavalry of Colophon was you have male children). The north so excellent in quality that their charge Germans say, "Your good health;" in Vlenna, "God be with yeu;" in Treland was always decisive in a battle. Hence or monogram or printer's name or sign the peasant says, "God bless your honor," "Long life to your honor." The Russian form is "To your good health" or date of printing in old printed books a colophon in the sense of a definite, or "How do you do?" English folklore is full of rhymes about sneezing on certain days.
